

Mad Libs:

" Last month my friends and I went on an adventure on a ship to the big wide ocean. As it was going to be a long trip, we packed lots of food, such as (food item) and (another food item). Our captain of the ship was a biologist named, (some's name). He shared that he went to school to be a biologist to help protect (ocean animal) and because he loved to learn about (another ocean animal). He loved to listen to music so for most of the trip to sea, we listened to (music type or song) music.

Okay, back to the story. So, there were (number) of us on the ship. We were on the search for the illusive (adjective) (ocean animal). Our captain said he had only seen such a creature once before and it was as big as a (large item). When all of a sudden, we heard (onomatopoeia, like Zoom, boom, splat). We had found the (adjective) (ocean animal). Or it had found us. (name) was too busy eating all of the (food items) to notice the loud sound. When all of a sudden, the large creature (action word) and then jumped up and ate his/her (same food item). The creature was no lie (wink, wink) as big as (number word) (zoo animal). Seriously.
